Introduction to Project Grants

Mass Humanities makes Project Grants to support public humanities projects—in any format—that benefit and engage Massachusetts residents. All nonprofit and government organizations that serve Massachusetts residents are eligible to apply, and regardless of format, all projects must be firmly grounded in the humanities and involve at least one Humanities Scholar.

The Humanities
Mass Humanities grants support projects that use history, literature, philosophy, and the other humanities disciplines, primarily to deepen public understanding of current social, political, and economic issues, thereby enhancing and improving civic life. More information is available online: masshumanities.org/about/the-humanities/.

Humanities Scholars
A humanities scholar is usually an individual with an advanced degree (M.A. or Ph.D.) in a humanities discipline who is actively engaged in research, writing, and/or teaching in that field. More information is available online: masshumanities.org/grants/scholars/.

Mass Humanities encourages collaborations between organizations, interdisciplinary approaches, and capacity building in small organizations. Priority is given to projects that engage audiences with limited contact to humanities programming (Engaging New Audiences for the Humanities) and projects that respond to our current theme (The Vote).

Engaging New Audiences for the Humanities (ENA)
To receive priority, an application must include a detailed and realistic plan for engaging new and larger audiences for humanities programs. Special consideration will be given to projects that involve audiences with limited access to the humanities, which include: young and working adults, incarcerated people, teens, and nursing home residents. More information is available online: masshumanities.org/grants/ena/.

The Vote: Exploring Voting Rights in America (TV)
Our current theme on Voting Rights, which is for Fall 2019 Project Grants and Winter 2019 Discussion Grants, gives priority to projects that explore the subject of voting rights in the United States from a humanities perspective, helping to develop the public’s understanding of this moment in our nation’s electoral history by situating it in a broader context, whether from the perspective of history, literature, ethics, political philosophy, jurisprudence, identity studies, or other humanities fields. With the centennial of the 19th Amendment approaching in 2020, projects may explore the women’s suffrage movement but may also address the many other dimensions of voting rights in the U.S. More information is available online: masshumanities.org/grants/the-vote/.
Project Grants carry a maximum of $10,000. Film Projects and projects that meet the ENA and/or TV incentives are eligible for a maximum of $15,000. All recipient organizations must demonstrate a cash cost-share that equals or exceeds 10 percent of the total funds requested and a total cost-share (cash and in-kind) that equals or exceeds the total funds requested.

What Mass Humanities Does & Does Not Fund

Through Project Grants, Discussion Grants, Local History Grants (SIRs and RIGs), and Reading Frederick Douglass Together Grants, the Mass Humanities Grants Program supports public humanities projects that benefit and engage Massachusetts residents.

Mass Humanities Regularly Funds:
- Humanities-based civic conversations
- Public lectures, conferences, and panel discussions
- Discussion events
- Research and inventory projects for local history organizations
- Museum exhibitions and related programming
- Programming to complement theatrical and artistic productions
- Oral history projects
- Walking tours
- Digital and audio humanities projects
- Film pre-production and distribution projects
- Interactive websites that function as public humanities programs
- Content-based professional development workshops for teachers
- Public humanities projects in many other forms

Mass Humanities Rarely Funds:
- Theatrical and artistic productions—unless the performers and production personnel (actors, stage hands, scriptwriters, etc.) are a primary audience benefitting from the project’s humanities content
- Preservation of objects or archival materials—unless directly related to a public program
- Scholarly research or writing—unless directly related to a public program
- Scholarships, fellowships, or travel to professional meetings
- Projects that result in academic credit for participants
- International travel
- Honoraria for speakers over $500 per person, per event

Mass Humanities Does Not Fund:
- Projects by individuals
- Websites, or other materials, used to promote the organization
- Capital improvements
- Construction or restoration
- Profit-making or fundraising projects
- Costs of entertainment or alcohol
- Professional theatrical productions
- Projects that advocate a single point of view, ideology, or specific program of social action
- Projects for which the direct beneficiaries are primarily college students
- Projects aimed primarily at audiences outside Massachusetts

All projects related to Native Americans must, whenever possible and reasonable, engage the agreement, advice, and cooperation of members of the Native community and follow NEH’s Code of Ethics for Projects Related to Native Americans, which is available online: www.neh.gov/grants/manage/code-ethics-related-native-americans.
Types of Project Grants

Standard project formats include but are not limited to:

- Humanities-Based Civic Conversations
- Public Lectures, Conferences, and Panel Discussions
- Discussion Events
- Walking Tours
- Digital and Audio Humanities Projects
- Interactive Websites that Function as Public Humanities Programs
- Content-Based Professional Development Workshops for Teachers
- Public Humanities Projects in Many Other Forms

Project formats with additional and/or specific requirements include:

- Museum Exhibitions and Related Programming
  Mass Humanities offers Project Grants to support the planning, implementation, and/or promotion of humanities-based exhibitions. Applicants may plan back-to-back proposal submissions for separate phases (planning, implementation, or promotion) of an exhibition project, and if so, each proposal/phase must have distinct goals and products. Project Grants are also made to support humanities-based programming around other kinds of exhibitions.

- Programming to Complement Theatrical and Artistic Productions
  Mass Humanities generally does not fund theatrical and artistic productions—unless the performers and production personnel (actors, stage hands, scriptwriters, etc.) are a primary audience benefitting from the project’s humanities content. However, Project Grants may support humanities-based programming, often in the form of pre- and post-performance discussions, to accompany such productions.

- Oral History Projects
  An oral history project may be eligible for a Project Grant if a central humanities theme/issue informs the gathering and presenting of information, and if the process of conducting and recording interviews is a major goal of the project. Oral history projects carry a number of additional requirements, including the involvement of oral history specialists, which are available online: masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_oralhistoryguidelines.pdf.

- Film Pre-Production and Distribution Projects
  Mass Humanities makes a limited number of grants each year to support films that explore humanities themes. Project Grants support the involvement of humanities scholars in film projects, the viability of humanities-based documentaries, and the distribution and use of such films. As a result, Mass Humanities supports discrete parts of larger film projects, most of which are not considered film “production.”

  Film Projects—eligible for up to $15,000—include but are not limited to:
  - Pre-production development that results in initial footage- and research-based products (a trailer, a web page, or other format) to help with fundraising.
  - Development of crowdsourcing and/or audience engagement practices for the project.
  - Distribution projects that result in the production of promotional and instructional materials.

  Film Projects must involve at least one humanities scholar and must result in substantial original material, such as a script development, a trailer or short, or an interactive website.

  Original pre-production and crowdsourcing materials may include but are not limited to: interactive web and social media outreach strategies, using web-based social tools such as Facebook, YouTube, online film festivals, and other platforms; the production of short films or film excerpts to be made available on a project website or used in discussions; or the development of an interactive or crowdsourcing page of a project website where an outreach plan is already present.
Original distribution materials may include but are not limited to: trailers, shorts, interactive websites, subtitles, television broadcasts, public screenings with discussions, festivals, and other products designed for outreach.

Grant Application Review Criteria

Grants are awarded in open competition on the basis of the following criteria:

Humanities Content
Are the humanities central to the project? Does the proposal clearly articulate the issues, questions, or themes to be addressed? Does the topic have current relevance, given the audience and location? Does the project allow for diverse points of view or responses?

Mass Humanities Priorities
Mass Humanities prioritizes projects that engage audiences with limited contact to humanities programming (through our Engaging New Audiences for the Humanities initiative) and projects that respond to our current theme, The Vote: Exploring Voting Rights in America. How well does the project respond to ENA and/or TV?

Personnel
Are the humanities personnel right for this project, and are the scholars and other personnel involved well-qualified for the roles they will play? Have the scholars been involved in planning the project?

Audience
Do the applicants have a clear sense of the audience they are trying to engage in the project? Are the topic, format, venue, and schedule appropriate for the intended audience?

Outreach
Does the proposal include a clearly outlined and effective plan and adequate budget for attracting the intended audience? Do the outreach methods suit the intended audience? Is the plan realistic?

Plan of Work
Are the project's objectives clearly stated and achievable? Is the format workable and appropriate? Is the scheduling realistic? Are there enough people to pull it off, and is the ratio of volunteer to professional labor reasonable?

Budget
Do the project costs seem reasonable and justified? If additional funds are needed to complete it, is the plan for securing them feasible? Is the budget realistic in terms of the scale of the project and the anticipated results?

Organization Capacity
Does the sponsoring organization appear to have the capacity to implement the project successfully? Would this project take place without this grant? If a collaboration is involved, have both/all organizations made a commitment to the project?
Deadlines, Routines, & Procedures

Mass Humanities awards Project Grants three times each year.

Applicants may submit an online inquiry form (LOI) at any time before the deadline listed on our website: http://masshumanities.org/grants/deadlines/. Whether an LOI is accepted or denied will depend both on eligibility and the project’s viability. Not all projects that are eligible are guaranteed to have their LOI accepted.

Once an LOI is approved, the applicant will be able to access the full application and will be assigned a staff member who works with the applicant as needed to develop the project and complete the application forms. The staff member is there to help:

- conceptualize the overall project as a humanities project;
- identify names of humanities scholars who can help plan and implement the project;
- make connections to other individuals and groups who might be helpful;
- answer questions and give feedback on outreach plans, budgets, and other procedures and logistics; and read and respond to the mandatory draft of the proposal.

All nonprofit and government organizations are eligible to apply. A nonprofit does not need to be a 501(c)(3), but it must have begun the registration process with the IRS or have a fiscal sponsor. If using a fiscal sponsor, the applicant should list the fiscal sponsor as the “sponsoring organization” in the online application system.

Applicants may apply for only one grant at a time, and grantees may have only one grant open at a time (with the exception of Reading Frederick Douglass Together grants). If you have an open grant, the final report must be submitted no later than two weeks prior to the LOI deadline and approved by the Program Officer. Generally, an applicant does not receive more than one Project Grant per year.

Applications from one organization—especially for the same or similar programs—submitted in successive years will be reviewed each time in competition with other proposals; continued funding cannot be promised.

Applicants must provide a copy of a recent financial statement and information on the sponsoring organization’s background—unless the information has been submitted within the past three years. Forms of financial information that Mass Humanities accepts, in order of preference, are: an audited financial statement, a filed IRS Form 990 for the most recent fiscal year, a Profit & Loss Statement for the most recent fiscal year, an Annual Report for most recent fiscal year, or a current or most recent annual organizational budget showing income and expenses.

Notification of a Project Grant award is about three months after submission of the LOI. Funded events may take place no sooner than 30 days after the date of grant award notification. Project Grant projects are usually completed within one year.

Mass Humanities has publicity requirements for all grant recipients, which are available here: masshumanities.org/grants/publicity/.

If you have any questions about Project Grants, please contact Jennifer Hall-Witt (jhall-witt@masshumanities.org / 413-584-8440 ext. 102), Katherine Stevens (kstevens@masshumanities.org / 413-584-8440 ext. 101) Melissa Wheaton (mwheaton@masshumanities.org / 413-584-8440 ext. 100) for support.
How to Apply Online

The Mass Humanities online grant application process has four parts: federal regulation compliance, an inquiry form (LOI), a draft, and a final application.

Step 1: Register with DUNS and SAM

As soon as you know you’re ready to apply for a grant, make sure you register with DUNS & SAM. Both are required by the federal government before we can release grant funding to any organization. If you have previously registered, make sure both are up to date. Grant funds will not be awarded to organizations without current valid DUNS and SAMs registrations. Please note SAMs registrations must be renewed annually.

Step 2: Submit an LOI

Next, go to the Online Grant Application. If you don’t already have an account, register by selecting the “Create New Account” button. You are prompted to enter your contact information, including a required email address, information about the organization, and its authorizing official. Your email address and password that you set up on the next screen will be your account logon. Please write your logon information down for future reference.

Once you have registered and created a new account, proceed to the “Applicant Page” and select the type of grant for which you’re applying. An “LOI Page” will open; provide the necessary information on that page and click the “Submit Form” button. Your work on the LOI can be saved and returned to; it does not need to be completed in one sitting.

The LOI helps staff determine (1) if the project is eligible for MH funding in this grant category and (2) the relative strength and viability of the project. If your LOI is approved, you will receive an email notification within 10 days after the submission deadline and can then access the full application by logging on to your account. If your LOI is declined, you will not be able to access the application. Not all eligible projects will be accepted into the application stage.

Step 3: Create a Draft

Drafts are required for Project Grant applications. Please refer to the deadline schedule for draft due dates. The application questions marked with DR are required for the draft. The draft is, essentially, an application without supporting materials. To assemble your draft, log on to your account, click “edit application,” and complete those portions indicated by [DR]. Work on the application draft can be saved and returned to; it does not need to be completed in one sitting. During the draft stage, do not click on the “submit” button. The “submit” button is reserved for the time when the final application is complete and ready to be submitted for consideration. Once the draft portion is complete, notify your Program Officer, who will review your draft application and provide you with feedback.

Step 4: Submit a Full Application

When the application, including all the supporting materials, is complete and ready for submission, press the “submit” button. Fields marked with * are required. Applications are due by midnight on the deadline date. In fairness to all applicants, all deadlines for grant applications are firm.

The above instructions appear online at: masshumanities.org/grants/applying-online/.

The online grant application system is available here: www.grantinterface.com/Process/Apply?urlkey=masshumanities.
The final section of this document includes lists of questions for both the Project Grant LOI and the Project Grant Application. While the LOI asks preliminary questions, the application includes four in-depth sections: Project Information, Nonprofit Sponsoring Organization Information, Personnel, and Uploads. The Uploads section includes the following materials, explained here in detail:

Budget and Budget Explanation

The Budget Form (masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_budgettemplate.doc) has two parts, a budget and a budget explanation, and both parts must be completed.

Funds may only be requested for activities related to the project that occur during the grant period. Expenditures that occur before the grant period may not be used in the cost-share.

Organizations must provide at least a one-to-one total cost-share. The cash cost-share must equal or exceed 10 percent of the MH funds requested, and the total cost-share (cash and in-kind) must equal or exceed the MH funds requested.

- Cash contributions—when actual money changes hands—may include paid staff time, travel costs, or expenses paid from the organization’s operating budget, registration fees, or other funding sources (except NEH).
- In-kind contributions may include the use of facilities, supplies donated to the project, and volunteer time. In Massachusetts, volunteer time is valued at approximately $30/hour.
- You may not use funds from other federal grants as part of your matching cost-share, nor may you use Mass Humanities grant funds as matching for any other federal grant award.

Most line items need not be matched, but Lines A and B (Project Administration) carry additional restrictions:

- MH funds on Line A must be matched, at least equally, in cash on line A.
- MH funds on Lines A and B (together) may not exceed 50 percent of the total MH funds requested.

Other restrictions to MH funds:

- MH rarely approves stipends/honoraria over $500 per person, per event.
- The budget may include reasonable food costs for program participants (such as lunch at a teacher’s institute or food for youth in an after-school program). Food costs for receptions are limited to $300 per project grant.
- MH funds may not exceed $1,000 for the purchase of reusable equipment needed for the project. Equipment cost requests should be kept to a reasonable percentage of the total MH funds requested.
- MH funds may not be used for tickets if the revenue from ticket sales goes to the sponsoring organization, but such costs may be included in the cost-share.

MH funds may be used to pay for reasonable travel (transportation and lodging) expenses for project personnel such as out-of-town speakers, but may not exceed $250 per person, per day for lodging. MH rarely funds international travel (originating outside of Canada, Mexico, the U.S., and U.S. territories and possessions).

MH funds may be used to cover indirect costs. Calculate indirect costs as a percentage of the total you are requesting from MH. If your organization has a federally negotiated rate, you can use that, but you must supply us with your Negotiated Indirect Cost Rate Agreement (NICRA) showing that the proper rate is being used. If you are not using a federally negotiated rate, you may use up to 10% of your total MH-requested direct costs. Note: costs specific to the project, like renting a space that is not your own and hiring a custodian for the space, are direct costs and should be listed as such.
Project Scholar’s Statement
The Project Scholar must prepare a short statement, using the Project Scholar’s Statement Form (masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_scholarstatement.doc), explaining how the project will function as a public humanities project. The statement is not merely an endorsement of the project or a letter of commitment.

Resumes of Major Project Personnel
Include resumes of the Project Director, Project Scholar, and other major project personnel. Please limit each person’s resume to two pages. Resumes should present credentials for involvement in the project, including earned degrees, employment, relevant publications, and previous experience with similar projects.

Events Listing (if applicable)
If the project includes public or private events, you must upload the completed Events Listing Form (masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_eventtemplate.doc). If funded, your public events will be included on our website and in our monthly emails, so you must update Mass Humanities with any changes to your event(s) as soon as possible.

Letters of Commitment/Support (if applicable)
Gather—and upload in one document—letters of support/commitment from co-sponsoring or collaborating organizations, indicating each collaborator’s familiarity with and role in the project.

Sample Materials (for film projects)
Proposals for Film Projects—which result in materials to help with fundraising, crowdsourcing, or distribution—must include an uploaded list of relevant films/links/media/websites. This list should include examples of your previous works in—or current inspirations for—filmmaking, as well as crowdsourcing, etc.

List of Existing Resources (if applicable)
Proposals for projects that include a tangible product—a film, video, curriculum, website, etc.—must include assurances that a similar resource does not already exist. You must upload an annotated list of existing resources that deal with your proposed topic, along with an explanation of how your project is different.

Exhibition Materials (if applicable)
Proposals for projects that result in an exhibition must include sample text and a floor plan (or comparable information).

Application Contract
The Application Contract Form (masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_contractform.doc) must be uploaded with signatures from the Project Director, Project Treasurer, and Authorizing Official.

All forms are available in the online grant application system and here: masshumanities.org/grants/downloads/. A sample budget is available here: masshumanities.org/files/grants/onlineapp/pg_budgetsample.pdf.

Note: Uploaded documents show as uploaded only after you save the application. Important information about upload fields:

- Each field accepts only one document. You can replace a document previously uploaded simply by uploading another file (there is no delete button).
- You may need to combine multiple documents prior to uploading. If they are all of the same type, such as Word, you can combine them in Word before uploading. If they are mixed formats, you may need to turn them into PDF files and then combine them into one file before uploading.
- Creating PDF files: If you need one, you can download a recommended free PDF creator.
- Combining PDF files: Instructions can be found here if you need to combine multiple PDF files into one file for uploading.

Note: If you do not have these documents in digital form, you may use the Fax-to-File service available in the Tools menu to get your documents in pdf format.
